AAMU Mission Statement

“Alabama Agricultural and Mechanical University is a public, comprehensive 1890 Land-Grant institution, committed to access and opportunity, and dedicated to intellectual inquiry. The application of knowledge and excellence in teaching, research and service is responsive to the needs of a diverse student population and the social and economic needs of the state and region. The University offers contemporary baccalaureate, master’s, educational specialist and doctoral level degrees to prepare students for careers in the arts, sciences, business, engineering, education, agriculture and technology. As a center of excellence, the University is dedicated to providing a student-centered educational environment for the emergence of scholars, scientists, leaders and critical thinkers, who are equipped to excel through their contributions and leadership in a 21st century national and global society. ”

Vi si on: The vision of Alabama Agricultural and Mechanical University is to be recognized as the premier Land-Grant institution of choice for students, faculty, staff, and future employers of its students. The University will be recognized nationally and internationally for excellence in teaching, research, outreach, exceptional academic programs and globally competitive students.

Commitment to Our Vision

While much has changed on "The Hill", AAMU still maintains its commitment to its mission:

- Excellence in education and a scholarly environment in which inquiring and discriminating minds may be nourished.
- The education of students for effective participation in local, state, regional, national, and international societies.
- The search for new knowledge through research and its applications.
- The provision of a comprehensive outreach program designed to meet the changing needs of the larger community.
- Programs necessary to adequately address the major needs and problems of capable students who have experienced limited access to education.
- Integration state-of-the-art technology into all aspects of University functions.

Alabama A&M University, in cooperation with businesses, industrial and governmental agencies, and other institutions, provides a laboratory where theory is put into practice in a productive environment.

Office Space & Communication

Each full-time faculty member is provided office space near his/her colleagues. Some departments provide space for adjuncts to utilize phone, talk with students and work on class work. The primary modalities of communication on the campus are email, phone and the intercampus mail system. Please check with the departmental secretary for instructions. Alabama A&M University email system is easy to use and accessible through the home page. Each department has a fax machine. Faculty members also can send information across campus via the intercampus mail system. The campus directory is located on the home page of the AAMU website. It provides phone numbers and email addresses.

It is important for faculty members to know whom to contact for specific issues. The list in the appendix (p.16) may facilitate this process.

Faculty and Staff Email

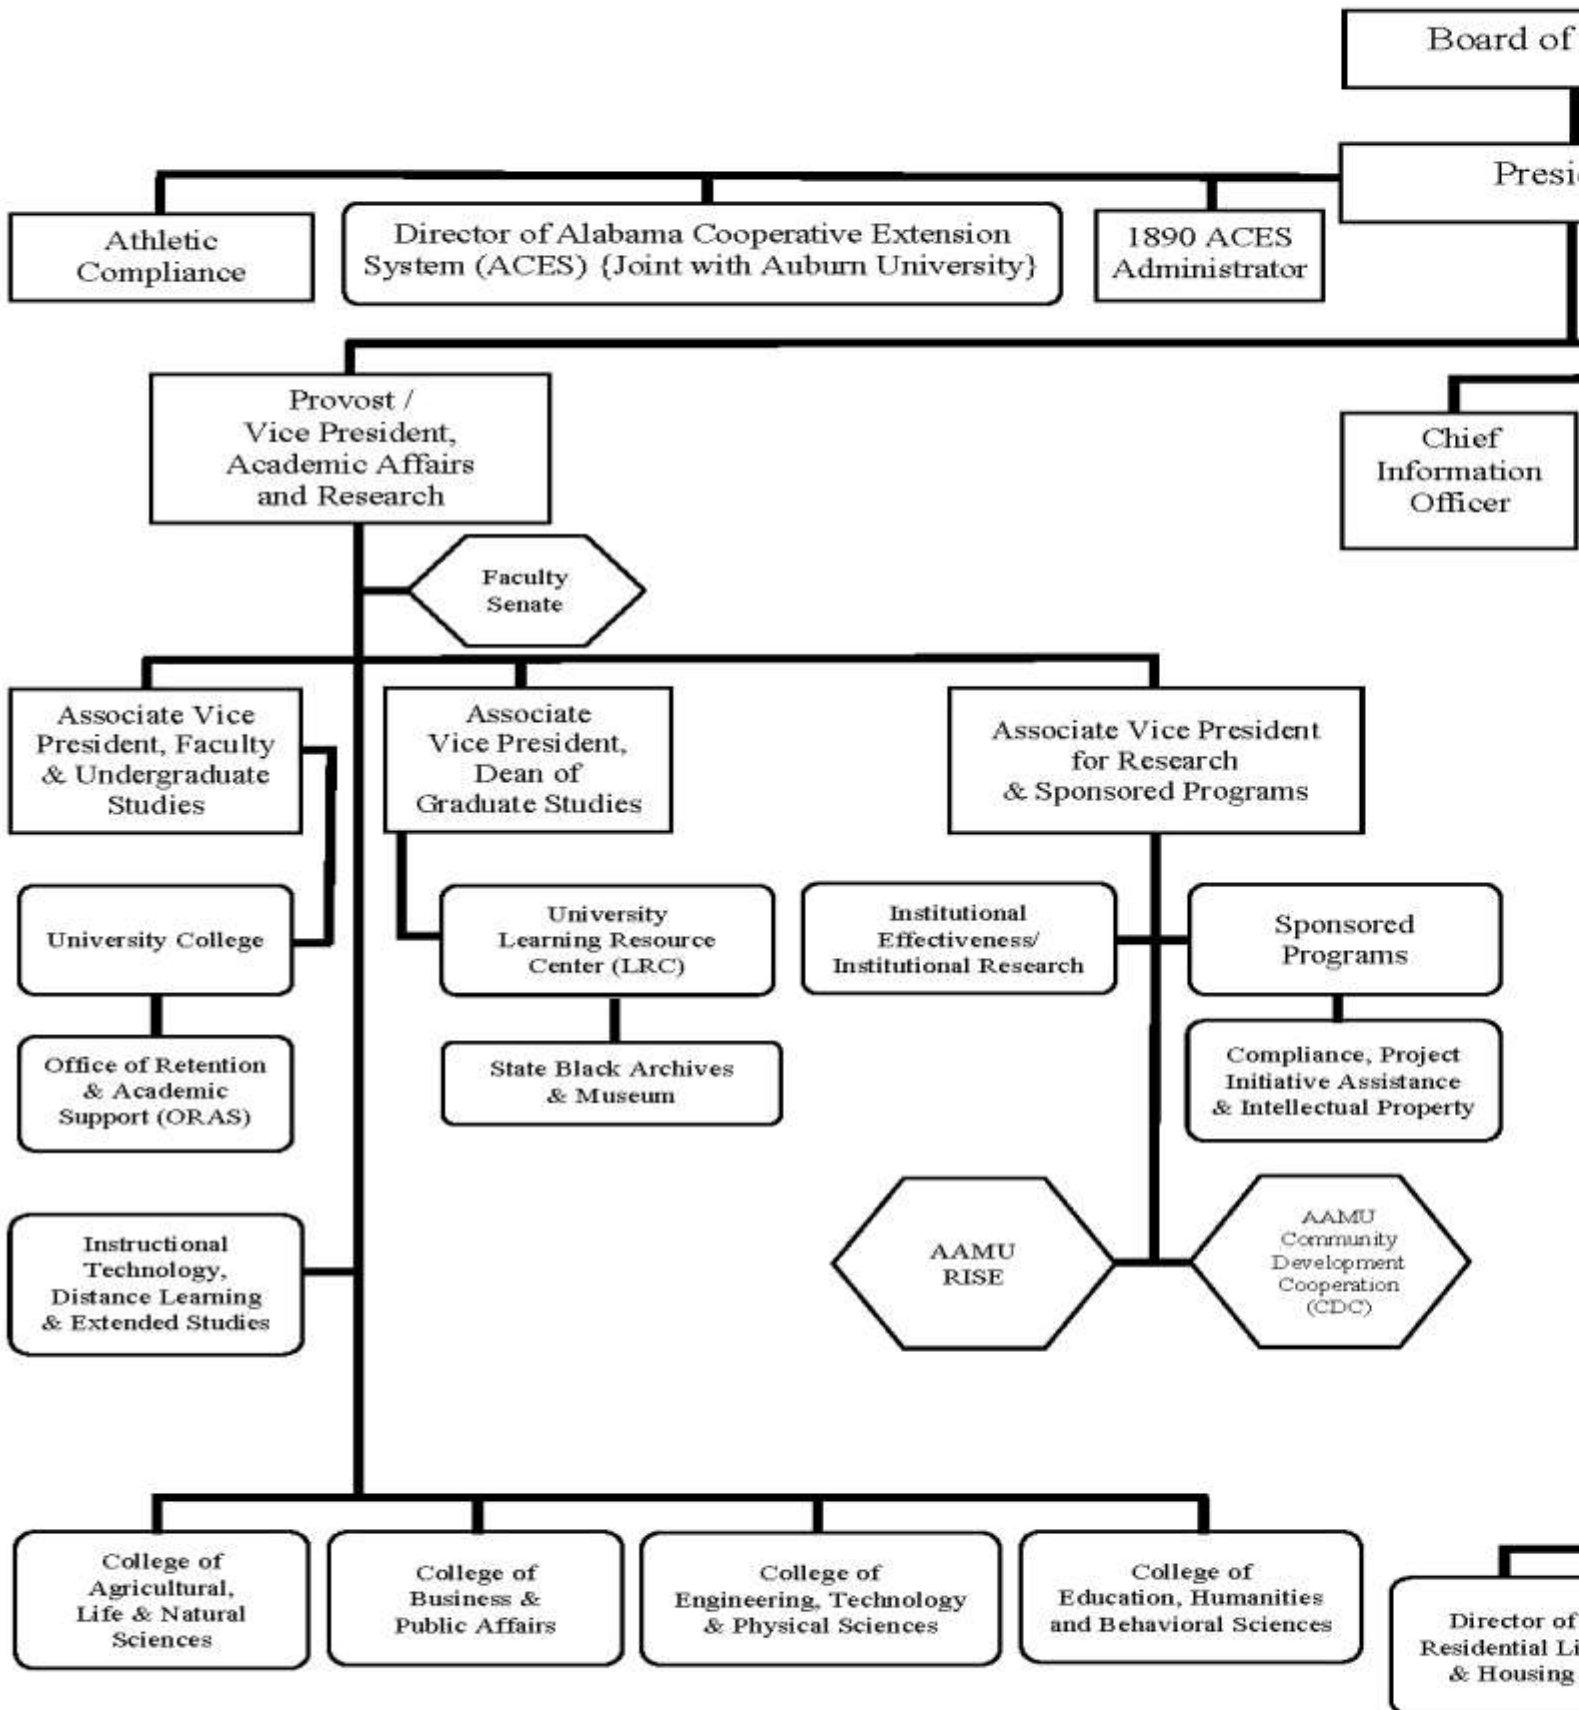

Alabama A&M University has established email as a primary vehicle for official communication with students, faculty, and staff. The majority of bulletins and announcements will be communicated through email

- Official email accounts for faculty and staff are established in Microsoft Exchange, the University's internal email system, operated and supported by ITS. Microsoft Outlook is the standard email application used with Exchange.

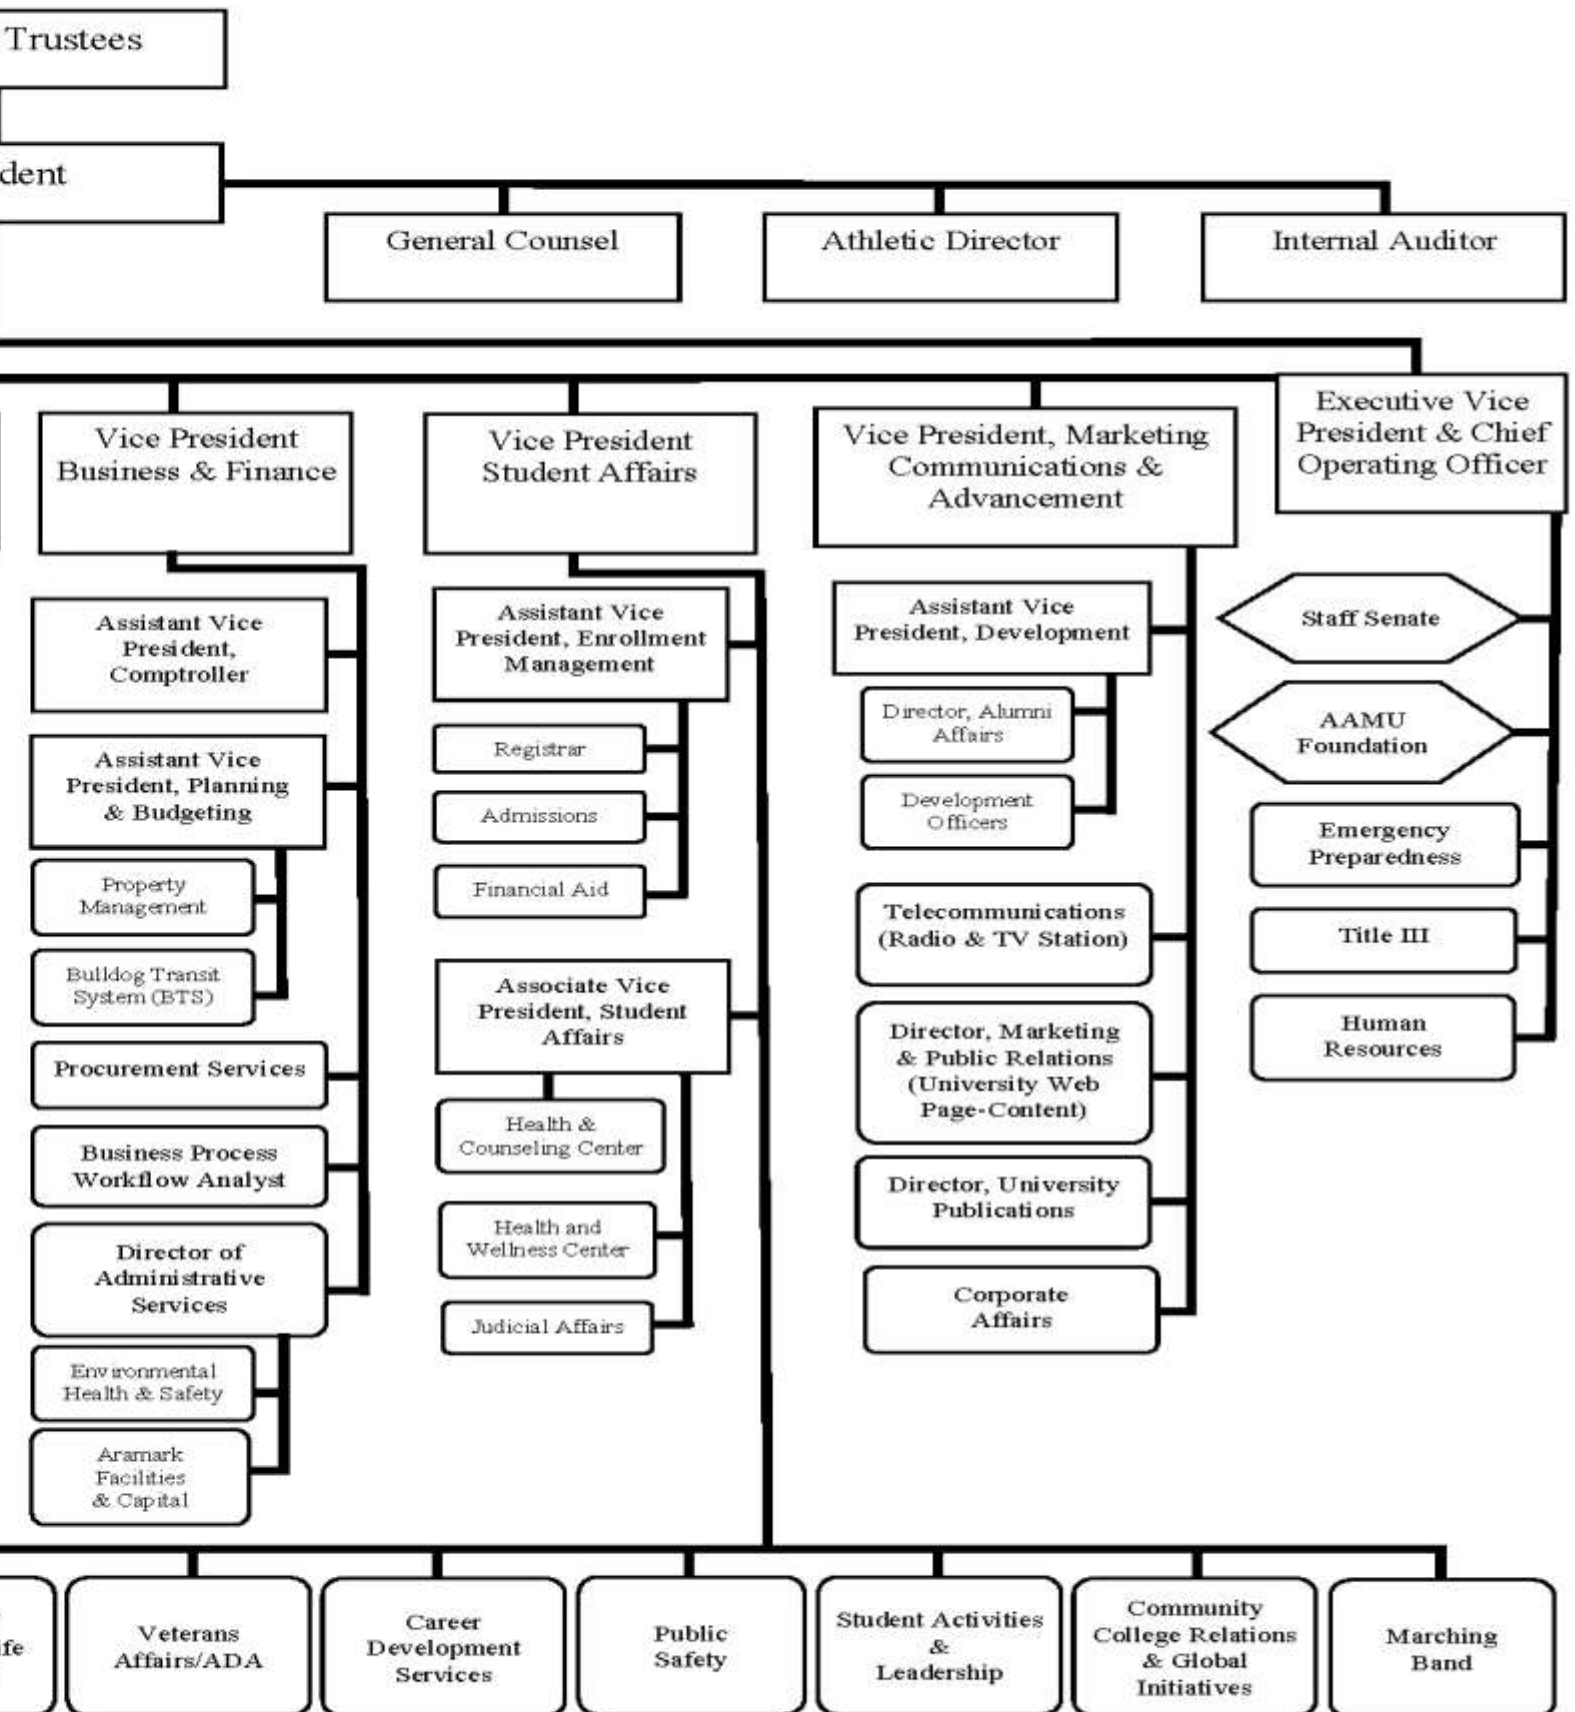

College & Departmental Meeting

Your department chair will provide information about the meeting times and location of departmental meetings. Your college dean will announce the time and place for periodic college meetings.

University Organizational Chart

Academic Affairs Organizational Chart

Faculty Appointments (Section 3.2 Faculty Handbook)

A basic appointment refers to the initial full-time appointment in an academic assignment where overload, release time, or other assignments may reduce the academic (teaching) duties. Full-time appointments with an annual assignment of fifty percent (50%) or more in an instructional program are eligible for tenure. All faculty members will receive one of the following appointments upon employment at the University:

- A. Regular Full Time: Employment of an unspecified duration with no predetermined separation date.
- B. Regular Part Time: Employment that is expected to continue indefinitely on a part-time basis. Employees are expected to work at least 20 hours but less than 35 hours per week and are not eligible to receive any fringe benefits.
- C. Temporary: Employment on an as needed basis.

Joint appointments are those appointments between/among academic units and other units of the University. The holders of such appointments whose basic or initial assignments are with the instructional program may be considered for tenure, if the instructional assignment is at least fifty percent (50%).

Part-time faculty appointments, such as adjunct faculty, are those individuals who are employed less than 100% of the time by the University. The total number of part time faculty for each academic unit will normally not exceed fifteen percent (15%) of the total instructional full-time faculty. These individuals are not eligible for faculty benefits. All administrative, untenured faculty, and non-tenured faculty appointments whether categorized as regular full-time, regular part-time, temporary, or otherwise may be ended by action of the employee or the University, with or without cause.

The following applies for the term of employment for part-time faculty:

1. Part-time faculty is a category of employment that is a non-tenure track classification.
2. Part-time faculty are employed to teach on a per-course/per semester basis within a designated academic department. Permission to teach in more than one academic department must be approved by each chair and college dean.
3. Part-time faculty hold their employment at the discretion of the President and Provost/Vice President for Academic Affairs and their immediate supervisor without written contract, either of whom may discontinue the employment of such employees without cause or advance notice.
4. Teaching Load: The teaching load for a part-time faculty is limited to two classes per semester. The Provost/Vice President for Academic Affairs must approve any exceptions to this policy through the department chair and appropriate dean.
5. Compensation Rates: The University has set the base rate per course taught which applies in all colleges. Information on the current rates can be obtained from the department chairperson.
6. Payments: Part-time faculty members are paid each month, generally at the end of the month in equal increments. Four payments are issued during the fall semester, September, October, November, and December. Five payments are issued in the spring semester, January, February, March, April, and May. Two payments are issued during the summer session, June and July. Payments will be issued on the last workday of the month, with the exception of December.

Centers for Excellence in Teaching and Learning

The Centers for Excellence in Teaching and Learning (CETL) are dedicated to enhancing the culture of teaching and learning at Alabama A&M University. CETL is the umbrella organization that houses

- * Center for Faculty & Staff Development (CFSD)
- * Center for Distance Education/ e-Learning (CDEeL)
- * Center for Adult & Continuing Education (CES)
- * Center for Instructional Technologies (CIT)

CETL seeks to establish and nurture a culture of critical reflection on teaching, which engages all members of the AAMU community of learners in pursuit of our commitment to excellence, innovation and collaboration in teaching and learning. CETL programs facilitate the teaching and learning process by providing expertise, resources and services that foster the development, use and assessment of innovative instructional environments, methods and technologies.

Center for Faculty & Staff Development (CFSD) hosts at least 2 professional development workshops per month on various pedagogies. An announcement with the CFSD Calendar of Events for all workshops comes out the beginning of each semester. For more information please contact Sophya Johnson at ext. 8783 or via email: sophya.johnson@aamu.edu

Do you need ideas for mapping out your online course's design? Would you like support with web-based instructional strategies and activities for your online courses? Well, CDEeL is the place for you! We provide exceptional course development support through hands-on professional development experiences and offer faculty access to resources which can facilitate audio narration and video lecture for online instruction. Yes! We can do that!

CDEeL offers the AAMU Online Instructor Certification (OIC) Program. This certification program, a requirement for all online faculty at the university, has been a great success thus far, with 257 faculty members completing the program to date. Be sure to enroll, if you plan to be an online instructor.

Additionally, we invite you to look for more exciting training opportunities ahead such as our Course Development Crash Course as well as our new monthly feature, BYOL ~ Bring Your Own Laptop, launching this fall!

To learn more about what the Center for Distance Education and e-Learning can do to support you, please contact us or stop by and see us at 300 Bibb Graves Hall. Contact Dr. Rhonda Moore-Jackson, Director 300-A Bibb Graves Hall rhonda.jackson@aamu.edu 256-372-5753

Center for Extended Studies : Adult and Continuing Education (CES) provides continuing education and professional development classes to the community. Class ideas and instructors are always welcome! CES also provides degree completion options to non-traditional, military, and adult students. For more information, contact Kris Reed, 300-A Bibb Graves Hall, (256) 372-5753 or email kris.reed@aamu.edu

CIT, under the division of CDEeL, offers Blackboard and instructional technology training for faculty and staff. For more information regarding infusion of technology in the classroom, contact Connie Mack, CCN room 122, (256) 372-4542 or connie.mack@aamu.edu.

Off-Campus Development

Title III: Financial assistance for faculty/staff to participate in job-related conferences, courses, meetings and workshops to gain cutting-edge information to help prepare world class students. Such funds can also be requested from the Title III Office. Contact information: (256) 372-5550 or <https://www.aamu.edu/about/administrative-offices/title-iii/forms.html>

Teaching Resources

The resources you will need for classroom instruction should be provided by your department. Please speak to the department chairperson to get specific information.

Student Resources

Academic Help: Academic support is available to undergraduate students. Please refer any student having trouble with academic skills (e.g. writing, language skills, math etc.) to the Tutorial Assistance Network (TAN). For more information about TAN, please contact: Linda Skeete McClellan, M.S., TAN Coordinator by email: linda.skeete@aamu.edu, call (256) 372-5487, or email: tan@aamu.edu

Students with Disabilities: “Access to Learning” identifies the University’s program for providing equal access to all educational programs, and ensuring compliance with applicable laws, including Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and the applicable titles of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) of 1990. Questions that may arise regarding University compliance with Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act, eligibility for the program or filing complaints should be directed to Sanoyia L. Williams, Coordinator of the Access to Learning Program, 106 Carver Complex South, or at (256) 372-4263. The Coordinator of the Access to Learning Program will work with appropriate faculty, staff and administrators under the authority of the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs to provide assistance and/or to seek resolutions for persons with handicaps or disabilities. A manual describing the program and complaint procedures has been distributed to the Learning Resources Center and all offices on campus, and is available for reviewing upon request.

Health Services: The Student Health Center provides medical assistance for student emergencies and is staffed by registered nurses and a part-time physician. If a student becomes sick in your class, please contact security at (256) 372-5555. Students may be referred to health services by calling (256)372- 4766 or studenthealth@aamu.edu

Counseling Service: This office provides counseling services for students who have behavioral or emotional issues which affect their educational performance. They provide medical and/or psychological documentation. The services are to assist students in developing more effective ways of dealing with difficulties and to provide referrals for those needing further assistance. For more information contact (256)372-5601 or Al Graham, DBH, NCC, LPC at (256) 372-4751 or Carlquista Slay, LPC, at (256) 372-4735.

Library

Website: http://alabamam.sdp.sirsi.net/client/en_US/default/

Dr. Annie Payton, Director, LRC and State Black Archives (256) 372-5401

Currently, the Learning Resources Center (LRC) has over 55 electronic resource subscriptions databases that patrons can access from anywhere on campus as well as remote locations. From on campus, patrons can go to the University's website, move the cursor over the word Library and select Databases from the drop down menu list.

In order to access from remote locations, one must have a valid Outlook or Gmail account plus a valid password. Patrons should contact the Information Technology (IT) department to receive such authorization at (256) 372-5993.

Every academic library strives to ensure that services offered are fully utilized. Toward this end, the LRC's Reference Department stands ready to conduct additional bibliographic instructions/ information literacy presentations. The LRC, however, needs the support of faculty to encourage their students to utilize our electronic resource subscription databases. Also, LRC staff asks that faculty accompany their students to the library to see what services are offered. The LRC faculty is also exploring different avenues to increase student involvement in using library resources. The embedded librarian is a novel concept that has been adopted by many academic libraries throughout the United States. The basic premise is it allows a librarian to become the point person for a particular class assignment throughout the semester. Students can ask questions directly via email or in person. If you are interested in pursuing such collaboration, please do not hesitate to contact (256) 372-8092 for assistance.

Public Safety

Website: <http://www.aamu.edu/administrativeoffices/publicsafety/pages/default.aspx>

Welcome to “THE HILL” where service is sovereignty! The Public Safety Department (PSD) exists to provide quality service derived from the expectations of the Alabama A&M community and our own dedication to excellence.

Our highest priority is the safety and well-being of the students, faculty, staff, and visitors at Alabama A&M University.

Although the Department of Public Safety is the primary department at the University charged with creating a safe and secure environment, this task is not one that can accomplish alone. Crime prevention, risk identification, and problem solving are the responsibilities of everyone on this campus. Efforts to maintain a safe and secure environment rely on the PSD’s ability to develop collaborative relationships with the many communities that make up the University. PSD believes that through partnering and problem solving, Alabama A&M will be one of the safest universities in the nation.

The use of strategies, based on a commitment to the philosophy of community and problem-solving policing, began last year and has already reaped tremendous benefits. Some of these successes can be found on the Public Safety webpage and in the Annual Security and Fire Report. The PSD will soon introduce more proactive strategies and programs that will increase community engagement efforts and enhance the quality of life at A&M. PSD asks everyone to join them in safety efforts by becoming informed and using good judgment because PSD wants your experiences on “The Hill” to be rewarding, fun, and safe.

Please do not hesitate to contact the PSD, (256) 372-5555—they are here to serve you!
